Art Unit: 1775

1. Newly submitted claim 10 is directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: claim 10 is drawn to a coated tool, similar to original claim 5 which was not elected in the instant application.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claim 10 is withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 9,3,4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The base material in claim 9 is not positively recited, rendering the claims indefinite. It is also unclear in claim 9, which plurality of first coating layer consists of the said components, rendering the claims indefinite.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 1775

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Brandle et al (6,492,01).

Brandle et al discloses the claimed alternating coating with the claimed components and thickness. The rejection is applied to claim 11, since Brandle et al discloses an overlap in the claimed materials and thus includes the claimed components for said second coating.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 3,4,9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Setoyama et al (5,503,912) or Kukino et al (5,882,777) in view of Brandle et al (6,492,011).

Setoyama et al or Kukino et al disclose the claimed use of alternating coatings on a substrate that may include CrN and TiAlN. Brandle et al discloses when these components are used they may be overlapped to improve adherence. Thus it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art in alternate between CrN and TiAlN and overlap these components, as shown by Brandle et al.

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 3,4 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
